THURSDAY MAY 5.

There were three suicides in Chicago on Tuesday, and one fatal quarrel. When it comes to a question of crime, Chicago never slumbers nor sleeps.

The Milwaukee molders struck for higher wages. They marched up the hill and then marched down again. Strikers usually do that kind of marching.

There is no telling yet what Mr. William B. Strong won't do with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road. He has been in Omaha conferring with local capitalists in regard to extending his road from Atchison to that city. The scheme will probably be carried out.

General S. B. Buckner, who fought at Fort Donelson, promised his bride before they were married, that she should be the wife of the governor of Kentucky. He is about to make that promise good. The general has been nominated for governor by the democrats, and of course will be elected.

Cincinnati is to have a big centennial celebration next year and is also laying pipes to capture the two national conventions that will be held in 1888. The guarantee fund is now being raised, besides which the Athens of the west promises that the delegates will have a bigger time than they could have in any other city outside of New York.

The Boston Herald, a mugwump, says: "There is but one real issue before the country to-day big enough to make parties upon, and that is the question of the tariff. All the rest is tradition and prejudice." And the Herald will observe that the tariff is an issue which, of all things, the democratic managers dread to bring into a campaign.

An Oshkosh item: Two girls employed at the Revere house, in Oshkosh, were attacked by a cow on one of the principal streets of the city. Their clothes were torn and one of them, Tillie Strowabine, was rendered insensible. The fact that Oshkosh is beginning to pasture its cows on the principal streets, would indicate that grass is growing where business activity should keep it down.

Assemblyman J. J. Hudfield, of Waukesha, wanted to be mayor, and sought a nomination on the labor ticket. He sealed the statement with an oath that he would be nominated and that no combination could defeat him. The cool heads of the democratic and republican parties joined forces, nominated a good man, and Mr. Hudfield got badly left. This is the way to deal with political bosses.

A Madison dispatch to the Milwaukee Sentinel contains the following statement: "Dr. Lyman C. Draper, of the State Historical society, says that the recently published reports regarding the remains of the French Marshal Ney are misleading and untrue; that the marshal's skull was not trepanned as stated, and that so far as he has been able to learn the marshal's forehead was not even scarred. Dr. Draper has not as yet received any information concerning the exhumation of the body of the North Carolina school teacher, alleged to be that of Marshal Ney, which was to have taken place yesterday."

A Pittsburg dispatch reads as follows: "Governor Rusk, and a number of other Wisconsin men, passed through the city to-day on the way to Gettysburg to select sites for monuments to the soldiers from that state who fell in battle on that field. Speaking of the presidential outlook Senator Sawyer said: 'I am still in favor of the nomination of John Sherman for president. Wisconsin has two candidates for vice president; one is Governor Rusk and the other General Fairchild. Governor Rusk is also a Sherman man, but he refused to say anything about his candidacy.' Here is a chance for the Evening Wisconsin to charge that Senator Sawyer and Governor Rusk are not true republicans."

The investigations of the interstate commerce commissioners made in New Orleans this week, would evidently have been a good thing if only they had been made before the interstate commerce bill was passed. The bulk of the evidence went to show that the business of certain southern cities will be materially injured, perhaps ruined, if the long and short haul clause is enforced. Doubtless most of the other cities in the south, as well as in the north and west, can produce equally strong testimony, and then the predicament of the commissioners will be complete. But the best way however, is to enforce the law, and not suspend it, as the commissioners are doing in many cases. General Grant once said that the best way to get rid of a bad law was to enforce it.

The Chicago Evanglization society, of which Mr. D. L. Moody is president, will hold an institute for christian students and workers, men and women, in Chicago, commencing May 10. It will continue four weeks. There will be, first lectures to young converts on practical subjects; second, a four weeks' carefully arranged plan of teaching and study This part of the institute will be under the leadership of Prof. W. G. Moorehead, D. D. of Xenia, O., who has so ably and successfully conducted two similar institutes. He will be assisted by Rev. Dr. E. P. Goodwin, Rev. S. J. McPherson, D. D., Prof. Hugh McD. Scott, D. D., President Ridgway, Maj. D. W. Whittle and other able teachers and ministers. The course of instruction will comprehend: First, Christian Doctrine; second, Bible Exegesis; third, Elementary Church History; fourth, Practical Christian Work. Like all the work of the Chicago Evangelization society, this effort to instruct christian workers is undenominational.

THE VALUE OF INTEGRITY.

One of the greatest triumphs in Alexander Mitchell's life was that of carrying his bank through the financial crisis of 1857. He made many splendid financial strikes after that, but the one that tested his courage and tried his integrity the most, was the bridging of the disaster of that year, when the crash of banks and the wreck of business firms, exceeded in number and severity any misfortune of the kind that had ever before been experienced in this country.

It is known that the bank which Mr. Mitchell controlled, was called the Fire and Marine Insurance company, its name not at all indicating the real character of the concern, but it was more generally known in Milwaukee as Mitchell's bank. There is a bit of interesting history connected with the bank which every business firm should understand, because there is much food for reflection in it. The Milwaukee Journal prints the following editorial note in regard to the bank and Mr. Mitchell's connection with it. Referring to 1857, it says:

Every citizen everywhere had been swindled by issues from chartered companies, which just before they disappeared in utter worthlessness, were classified as sandstone, grindstone, blue pup, sick monkey, etc. There was neither specie nor par paper in the country, and literally no circulation of money because there was none to circulate. A burnt child dreads the fire, and everyone had been burnt. Such was the condition when the Marine issues emerged into sight.

From the beginning it was a question of confidence in individual responsibility. The charter did not authorize an issue of notes of any kind. The legislature repealed even the pretense of legality by annulling it. Viewed as a bank it was the wild cat of wild cats. And yet its circulation grew, was yearly extended, and finally absorbed the whole field of paper currency. Money for many years commanded from 25 to 200 per cent annual interest, so that the profits must have been enormous. Now what was the secret of this success? Simply, honesty, integrity and upright dealing. The bank, if that name is proper, redeemed its issues, cherished its credit, and became a reliable financial agent to meet public necessities. It was soon discovered that the proprietor had no thought of making for Canada, that he was a reliable man of business, and had come to stay. It was not a charter, but Mitchell's word and reputation that sustained the circulation.

SOME LIGHT FOR A DARK MIND.

A few days ago there appeared in the Boston Herald, the following three-line editorial item:

Mr. Blaine is losing his hold on his party. There are several republicans whom it would be easier to elect than he.

The Herald is one of these wise mugwump papers, whose "eternal freshness" is its constant boast. Of course there is nothing concerning Mr. Blaine that the mugwumps do not know all about. They pretend, in their shining wisdom, to know that he is growing weaker, that his grip on his party is broken, and that he will again strive for a second nomination. This is the burden of the Boston mugwump. But the New York mugwumps, the Harper's, begins to feel very blue over the democratic-mugwump prospects for '88; and even the Times, and the Post of New York city, think Mr. Cleveland must improve a little in his political methods, or that Mr. Blaine will be nominated and beat him.

The New York Sun, whose democracy is so bold as to have started the cry two years ago, "turn the rascals out," answers the Boston Herald's three liner, in this wise:

Is it a furtive and sneaking desire to steal back into the republican party that makes the mugwumps think they see the thing they wish to see? Hatred of Mr. Blaine is the Thirty nine Articles of the mugwump sect. If he could only be put out of the way, they might go back to their old love, and essay the congenial labor of bossing it as of yore. Signs are not wanting that the democratic party is sick of their arrogant interference, and firmly resolved to get rid of it. If the democrats retire Mr. Cleveland and the republicans do not retire Mr. Blaine, what will the mugwumps do then, poor things? They will be as lonely as a snake charmer in Ireland.

So with this condition of heart and mind, the mugwumps are trying to make themselves believe that Mr. Blaine is really growing weaker in a political sense. And the Sun asks the Herald this question:

The democrats might well wish that it were, for Mr. Blaine is a formidable opponent, and the one republican who is attractive to considerable masses of the democratic party, especially in this town and this state. The democrats can find a candidate who would reduce Mr. Blaine's margin of democratic support, but what other republican can the republicans find who would command as large a support as Mr. Blaine?

These comments on the question of Mr. Blaine's candidacy, show the drift of thought in the mugwump and democratic ranks. It is surely quite early for the mugwumps to betray their fears in regard to Mr. Blaine. Why not let him rest? Why not give themselves a little ease of mind concerning the man from Maine? It is possible he may not be nominated for the reason he may not care for the nomination; or, if he does care, there is such a thing as the convention giving the nomination to some one else. Sufficient unto next year is the mugwump trouble thereof; therefore let the men who fear that Mr. Blaine will come to the front again when there is a presidential nomination to be had, possess their souls in peace. Should he be nominated the mugwumps will have well grounded fears of the result, but until then let them suppress their foolishness.

THE WILD WEST SHAKEN.

ARIZONA FEELS THE SOLID EARTH LOSE ITS STABILITY.

Mountains Rended and Rocks Riven from Their Bases—Two Volcanoes Begin a Fiery Entertainment—Mexico Trembles—Terrible Colliery Accident in British Columbia—Fatal Fire at New Orleans.

TUCSON, A. T., May 5.—An earthquake shock at 2:12 Tuesday afternoon did considerable damage in the way of racking buildings, and caused a panic among the people, who rushed into the streets and ran frantically about. It was the first earthquake ever experienced here. A rumbling noise accompanied the vibrations. The taller buildings swayed as if about to topple over. The shock had a singular effect upon the Santa Catalina mountains, great masses falling from their sides at various points, and rolling down 7,000 feet to their base, sending up volumes of dust resembling the vapors of a volcano. A prominent peak, known as the Old Castle, a land-mark from time immemorial, suddenly disappeared from sight.

The vibrations lasted about four minutes, and slight recurrences of the motion have been twice felt since. After the shock a volcano appeared in the Total Wreck mountains, about twenty miles south of Tucson. Its flames illumined the sky during Tuesday night, and the smoke arising from it was visible Wednesday.

Another Volcano Started.

BENSON, A. T., May 5.—About 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon great terror was caused among the citizens by an earthquake shock. Buildings were quickly deserted. Though considerable damage was done, no one was hurt. Slight tremors followed the shock, being felt at intervals during the night.

A man has arrived from the San Pedro river and reports that the shock was severe in that vicinity. A fissure in the ground six inches wide opened in one place and water rose where there had before been dry land. The phenomenon of smoke arising from the Whetstone mountains, eight miles south, was witnessed from here after the shock. The appearance is that of a volcano, and there is great excitement about the occurrence, as no volcano has ever before existed in this region. A party has started for the mountains to make an investigation.

LATER.—The volcanic eruption is now pronounced genuine from Whetstone mountain. Parties on a train report that fire was seen coming forth from the mountain. Lava and smoke can be seen from the streets of Benson, nearly twenty miles from the disturbance. At first it was thought the woods were on fire, but the constancy of the burning and the appearance at night indicate that it is a volcano caused by the earthquake.

A Lake Dried Up.

TOMBSTONE, A. T., May 5.—A severe shock of earthquake occurred Tuesday about 3 p. m., and continued furiously about forty seconds. Windows were broken and buildings cracked and injured, but no persons were hurt. Ten miles from the city a lake covering an acre of ground completely dried up in twenty minutes. Embankments along the New Mexico & Arizona railway were moved from their former positions in many instances as much as twelve inches.

Elsewhere in the Territory.

GLOBE, A. T., May 5.—At 3:11 p. m. Tuesday an earthquake shock, lasting twenty seconds, was felt here. The Indians were greatly terrified.

PHŒNIX, A. T., May 5.—An earthquake was experienced here at 3:40 p. m. Tuesday. Clocks were stopped and buildings swayed perceptibly. The vibrations were north and south.

WILCOX, A. T., May 5.—A shock of earthquake occurred here at 3:10 p. m. Tuesday, causing much damage to buildings. One dwelling was shattered so that it will have to be rebuilt. The vibrations were from north to south and lasted an hour and three quarters.

It Extends to Mexico.

GUAYMAS, Mexico, May 5.—At 12:45 p. m. Tuesday two earthquake shocks were felt here, with short intervals, lasting altogether a few seconds. The direction was east and west. No damage is reported so far, though all clocks stopped running. Shocks were felt in many other places all over this part of Mexico. The following is from an agent at Torres station: "One minute after the first quivering sensation the highest cliff of the Calvato mountain fell, causing a cloud of dust to rise like smoke from the explosion of a large amount of powder. From the station it had the appearance of a volcanic eruption."

In California.

CENTERVILLE, Cal., May 5.—A severe earthquake shock, preceded by a series of rumblings and dull explosions, was felt here at 7:12 Tuesday morning. The direction was from north to south.

CAUGHT BY THE FIRE-DAMP.

One Hundred and Fifty Miners Entombed—Heartrending Scenes.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 5.—News has just reached here from Nonaimo of an explosion in one of the shafts of the Victoria Coal company. One hundred and fifty miners were at work in the mine when the explosion occurred, and it is feared that many of them will die before assistance can reach them. Rescuing parties have made several attempts to reach them, but the flames and gases arising from the mines have thus far prevented them from getting near enough to be of any assistance. Twelve miners have so far been recovered, most of them dead, and all the others badly injured. One man of a relief party, who attempted to enter the mine, was suffocated. The families of the miners are crowding around the mouth of the pit, crying and praying that the lives of the entombed may be saved. The scenes are heartrending. Many families will be left entirely destitute.

CREMATED IN HIS BED.

Horrible Fate of a Paralytic—A Little Girl Also Burned—Heavy Property Loss.

NEW ORLEANS, May 5.—Early Wednesday fire broke out in Mitchell's cistern factory, 183 and 185 Magazine street, and spread to the residence of the chief of the fire department, O'Connor, who barely escaped from the building with his life. A high wind was blowing and before the engines could get to work Nos. 124, 126, 128 and 135 Julia street were a mass of flames. No. 124 was occupied by Policeman McLaughlin Lyons and family. Tuesday Mr. Lyons was stricken with paralysis and compelled to take to his bed. He was sleeping with his grandchild, a little girl.

The building burned so rapidly that the family had barely time to get out. Lyons' wife endeavored to get her husband out of bed, but the flames compelled her to leave him and she ran screaming out of the house and begged the firemen to save her husband Several brave fellows promptly responded and endeavored to reach the paralytic, but were unable to do so. After abandoning Lyons to his fate they were told about the little girl and search was made for her, but she was nowhere to be found. It is known that she also perished.

No. 122 Julia street was a boarding-house, and the guests had a narrow escape with their lives. The flames then attacked eight buildings on Camp street, but at 5 o'clock the wind lulled and a heavy rain began falling, and the firemen soon had the flames under control.

The total property loss is about $180,000; insured for about half that amount. Chief O'Connor lost a number of valuable firemen's prizes and trappings which he values at $20,000.

Heavy Blow in Michigan.

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 5.—A terrific wind swept the peninsula Monday afternoon, completely prostrating telegraph and telephone wires, and doing great damage at Ishpeming, Houghton, Negaunee, Escanaba, and all through from Port Howard to Iron River and from Norway to Sault Ste. Marie. Communication was entirely destroyed.

The Portable Boiler at Work.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Near Glencoe Tuesday afternoon a boiler that had been used to run a circular saw to cut railroad ties, exploded while workmen were making some repairs. Alfred Harms, the son of the owner, and Charles Carroll, the engineer, were instantly killed. Their bodies were terribly mangled.

Four Seriously Burned.

ILLIOPOLIS, Ills., May 5.—Rev. Robert Smith and three sons were seriously, if not fatally, burned by an explosion of powder which occurred at the coal mine in Dawson, a small town west of here, Tuesday evening.

THE ARENA OF MUSCLE.

Among the Thoroughbreds.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 5.—The winning horses at the Ivy City meeting Wednesday were: Jennie B. 1 mile 1:43; Tom Hood, 1 mile, 1:44; Britannic, ¾ mile, 1:16½; Richmond, 1 mile, 1:45; Maggie Mitchell, ¾ mile, 1:10.

NASHVILLE, May 5.—Eva K. won the ¾ mile race at the course here Wednesday in 1:20¾; Little Minch the ¾ mile in 1:04¼. Egmont the 1⅛ miles in 1:50¼.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 5.—At the races here Wednesday the stake winners were: Rio Grande, 1 1-16 miles, 1:50¼; Perkins, ⅞ mile, 1:04¾; Kirklin, 1 mile, 1:43¾. Ovid, ¾ mile, 1:16¾.

Making the Base Ball Record.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Wednesday's base ball games are reported as follows: At Philadelphia—Philadelphia 12, Boston 0; at Indianapolis—Indianapolis 9, Chicago 5; at Washington City—Washington 8, New York 9; at Pittsburg—Pittsburg 8, Detroit 9—eleven innings.

Association games: At Cleveland—Cleveland 6, Cincinnati 10; at New York—Metropolitan 8, Brooklyn 7; at St. Louis—St. Louis 4, Louisville 1—six innings; at Philadelphia—Athletic 2, Baltimore 6.

The Six-Days Walk.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—The Wednesday midnight score in the six-days walking contest stood as follows: Noremac, 355 miles; Albert, 270; Hart, 234; Strokel, 234; Hughes, 275; Sam Day, 260; Tilley, 221; Elson, 261; Newhart, 252; Adams, 209; Williams, 227.

Big Price Offered for a Horse.

PARIS, Ky., May 5.—Clay and Woodford, owners of Runnymede stock farm, have received an offer of $100,000 from New York parties for their celebrated stallion Hindoo, provided he lived four years after the purchase. The offer was refused.

No Spring Meeting at Naragansett.

BOSTON, May 5.—The managers of Narragansett park have decided not to give a spring meeting, and the dates claimed by them have been taken by George H. Hicks, who assumed control of Beacon park last Sunday.

Jack Dempsey Under Bonds.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 5.—Jack Dempsey, the pugilist, who was arrested upon the charge of unlawfully sparring, was bound over to the police court Wednesday under $200 bail.

A MORIBUND WHISKY POOL.

It Hangs Together, but Becomes Virtually Inoperative.

CHICAGO, May 5.—The Western Export association held a fully-attended meeting at the Grand Pacific hotel Wednesday afternoon. Spellman, of Peoria, agreed to run as desired by the pool, but the new house of Bush & Brown, of that city, refused to enter the pool, demanding a capacity of 3,000 bushels per day. Two houses in Ohio and one Indiana also refused to come in. The association concluded that it did not pay to run the pool, pay assessments and pay closed houses with so many distilleries outside and independent. The members therefore decided to pay no assessments, pay no closed houses for the coming month, and to reduce the price on whisky from $1.13 per gallon to $1.05, decreasing the income of the pool $12,000 per day, or $4,000,000 per year. The pool is virtually inoperative, although the officers still hold intact. "Buffalo" Miller said the future looked dark and it is hard to tell when the pool will be revivified.

DOLLARS AND SENSE!

Are two very good things to have and those who make good use of the latter generally manage to get their share of the former, The sense of saving the cents is pretty generally understood by all, but where and how to save them may not be quite so well and widely known. The morgue of economy and the graveyard of frugality is found in all those stores who ask a few cents more than we do for the purchases of the day.

A SECRET OF MONEY MAKING.

Lies in the solution of the problem of judicious buying; this is accomplished by securing a reliable article at the very lowest price, but where? There is but one "lowest" and once found you may depend upon it that you are on the broad road to riches. Seek until you find it, and in the search don't forget to look us over, for we are making it a point to save at least one cent for every purchaser, no matter how small or trifling the article may be.

AS YOU BUY SO YOU SAVE,

For the larger the article the wider the gap between our figures and the average prices of the day. Try us and you will find we are something to tie to. Our intention is to serve you with the best at a scale of prices mutually beneficial, and at the end of the year we will prove to have

KENTUCKY'S KEYNOTE.

AN INDORSEMENT OF CLEVELAND CARRIED WITH A WHOOP.

Tantbee Kicks Vigorously, but Is Sat Upon—Gen. Buckner Gets the Nomination by Acclamation—Synopsis of the Platform and the Speeches—Indiana Municipal Elections—Political Notes.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—The state Democratic convention, which was expected to be an important event because the keynote of the campaign of 1888 for the Democracy was to be struck, and the way made plain for the renomination of Mr. Cleveland, met at Liederkranz hall Wednesday at noon, the chair being occupied by Col. J. Stoddard Johnston, chairman of the state central committee. The hall was packed to its fullest capacity, standing room being at a premium, and a full attendance of delegates was present, the convention being the largest held since the war. Mrs. Speaker Carlisle, Mrs. Senator Blackburn, Mrs. Henry Watterson, Mrs. Governor Hindeman and Mrs. Gen. Buckner occupied seats on the platform, having been conveyed through the crowds at the doors with great difficulty by a detail of police.

GEN. BUCKNER.

State Senator Samuel Hill, of Hartford, was selected as temporary chairman, and made a speech principally devoted to state issues. The usual committees having been appointed a recess was taken to 4 p. m.

When the convention reassembled the question of indorsing the national administration was suddenly sprung by the following resolution offered by J. A. McKenzie, of Christian county:

Resolved, That the Democracy of Kentucky has marked with satisfaction and pleasure the wisdom, fidelity and courage with which Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, has administered his high office, and hereby tenders to him its cordial assurance of unfaltering confidence and support.

The resolution was greeted with moderate applause in the midst of which Congressman Taulbee mounted his chair, and made an excited protest against the consideration of the question involved until a permanent organization had been effected.

Mr. McKenzie retorted that in offering the resolution it was not his intention to endorse the civil service policy, for, thank God, it had been his privilege to vote against it; at the same time it was no use pottering about the matter. It was simply proposed to approve the honesty, integrity, fearlessness and courage of the administration, and nothing would be gained by antagonizing the general policy of the one man who was the most available material of the party for the next national campaign.

After further debate the chairman ruled that the resolution must go to the platform committee and the matter was dropped.

No committee being ready to report, speech-making filled up the afternoon and Senator Blackburn aroused considerable enthusiasm by calling upon the convention to block out the pathway which would lead to a Democratic national victory next year. He made a powerful appeal for harmony in connection with administration affairs, declaring that while it was true that the president had failed to do many things which he should have done, and had done many things which might better have been left undone, yet his honesty and cleanliness were alone sufficient to warrant the party in placing him before the country a second time.

Col W. C. P. Breckenridge spoke in the same vein, and speeches were made also by Henry Watterson, State Senator Green Smith, of Indiana, and others, and then another recess was taken until 8 p. m.

At the second reassembling Speaker Carlisle was elected permanent chairman, and the delegates shouted themselves hoarse as he was escorted to the chair. His speech was expected to be the bugle call to the national Democracy, and it was consequently a surprise when he confined himself to a history of the Democracy, a declaration that he was not a candidate for any office, and an argument for states rights as opposed to paternal government, which last he said was the next thing to mob law.

Prolonged applause was evoked when he said with emphasis that the advance of the Socialists, Communists, Anarchists and the advocates of kindred heresies should be resisted by the combined conservative forces of the country, that incendiaries imported from the hot-beds of Europe should not be tolerated, and that secret revolutionary societies should be suppressed as contrary to the spirit of the free institutions of the country, and there were shouts of "Blaine," and "Sherman," and loud laughter when he remarked that the Democratic party had one set of principles for all parts of the country, not one set for Ohio, a different one for the south, and perhaps another for the east. In closing Mr. Carlisle paid a very brief tribute to President Cleveland and his administration, bearing testimony to its honesty, its integrity, its fearlessness, and its impartiality, and closed amid applause.

The credentials committee made its report and the contests between delegations were rapidly settled by the convention, the only incident of note being a fight between two local politicians, in which no blood was shed, however.

The next thing in order was the nomination of a candidate, and Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner was selected by acclamation, his competitors, John D. Harris, S. A. Holt and Sumner Berry, withdrawing.

The platform was presented shortly before midnight. It opens with the following eulogy of the president and declaration on the civil service:

We declare our confidence in the integrity and conscientious devotion to duty of Grover Cleveland, and congratulate the country and the party upon the accession of a Democratic administration, national, economic and clean; and we particularly applaud the president for the fidelity and courage with which he has protected the treasury from pillage by his exercise of the veto power, and hereby pledge to him our confidence and support in the discharge of the duties of his office.

We favor such a reform of the civil service as will enforce a faithful performance by persons appointed to office of all public duties intrusted to them, and to this end as well as to the maintenance of the spirit of our republican form of government, we demand the strictest measure of personal and party responsibility, and are opposed to the substitution in room of this of life tenure, a civil pension list and all other appendages of a bureaucratic system foreign to the genius of our institutions and people.

The other resolutions declare in favor of honest money, sympathizes with the people of Ireland and denounce coercion; view with alarm the growing tendency toward securing federal aid for private enterprises; denounce the war tariff as a masterpiece of injustice, inequality and false pretenses and demand its immediate reduction; approve the action of the last house of representatives regarding the forfeiture of railroad lands; condemn the importation of contract labor and urge the enactment of laws for its suppression.

Congressman Taulbee submitted a minority report which simply recommended the striking out of that portion of the first resolution applauding the president for protecting the treasury. He made a long and heated speech in support of his recommendation, but the uproar and yells of "Put him out!" and "Shut up!" rendered his remarks inaudible and the majority report was adopted. Gen. Buckner was presented and returned thanks for his nomination, the band played "Dixie" and the convention adjourned.

Democratic Gains in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 5.—Reports are in from sixty-five town and city elections held in this state Tuesday, and the results show large Democratic gains in all sections, many cities heretofore reliably Republican having elected their entire Democratic tickets. Lafayette and Shelbyville for the first time in their histories elected Democratic mayors. There were few local issues of consequence and the campaigns were generally made up on the legislative records of the two parties. At Wabash, the home of Speaker Reed, the Democrats made large gains. Michigan City was carried by the Republicans for mayor, clerk and marshal. There were three tickets in the field. The city is usually Democratic.

Indiana Woman Suffragists.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 5.—The state woman suffrage convention demanded in its resolutions Wednesday suffrage for women when the sale of liquor is the question, and that the "age of consent" for women be made 18 years. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Helen Gougar, of Lafayette; vice president, Mrs. Alice Wahl, of Tipton; treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Wood, of Indianapolis; secretary, Mrs. Ida Harper, of Terre Haute; chairman of the executive committee, Mrs. May Wright Sewall, of Indianapolis.

Camden Throws Up the Sponge.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 5.—The West Virginia legislature took seven ballots for United States senator Wednesday. Forty-five votes were necessary to a choice and on each ballot Camden had 43. The persistence of his opposers, however, has caused him to throw up the sponge, and the two factions of the party will, it is now said, unite and elect a United States senator.

Ohio Republican Convention.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 5.—The Ohio Republican central committee met in this city Wednesday night, and decided to hold the state convention in Toledo on July 27 and 28.

DILLON AND THE THUNDERER.

The British Cabinet Makes a Proposal That Don't Suit the Parnellites.

LONDON, May 5.—Lewis made his motion Tuesday night that the charges of the Times against Dillon were a breach of the privileges of the house, against the advice of the Conservative "whips." The government was unwilling to have the question sprung at this time because of the delay such action would occasion in the progress of the crimes bill, and when the house met Wednesday Smith took the bull by the horns and said the cabinet had decided that The Times' charges were not a breach of privileges, and in order to have the matter settled had instructed the attorney general, with such members of the house as cared to join with him, to prosecute The Times for libel.

This was not satisfactory to the Parnellites, and a discussion on precedents arose, the latter claiming that the government's action was against precedent, and the Tories insisting that it was in line therewith. During the debate Tanner asserted that the Tories were a "lot of cads," and was immediately required by the speaker to retract, which he did. O'Connor flourished a copy of The Times and said he bought it at one of Smith's bookstores, and that Smith was too deeply interested in the matter to be fair, and ought to be in the clock tower with the Times publisher. The Liberals, including Gladstone, opposed the government's proposal.

Churchill thought that resort to the law was a much better method of instigation than to depend upon the action of the house for a remedy. He added that it was useless to disguise the truth; that even should the publisher of The Times be brought before the bar of the house, it would have no effect whatever in curbing the power of the press of the country.

Dillon said he did not consider the ordinary tribunals of the country as open to members of the Parnellite party, and, therefore, he maintained his right to be heard before a select committee. He would decline to take action against The Times in a court of law, because he didn't believe it possible for him to get a just verdict, owing to the prejudices which a jury composed of Englishmen would have against members of his party. He was perfectly willing to submit the case to a parliamentary committee of Englishmen. The debate was adjourned.

The Times comments freely on the proceedings in parliament and while opposing the Parnellite view of how to get the case adjudicated, says it is ready for any proceeding and it can prove everything it has published.

Foster's Weather Predictions.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, May 5.—W. T. Foster, the Hawkeye weather prophet, says the storm periods for May will be the 13th and 27th, that is, those two dates will mark the centers of the periods, the first storm reaching the Mississippi about May 10, and the last May 21. During the prevalence of the first storm there will be danger at sea and on the lakes. There will be pretty severe storms on the 15th and 18th also. The storm beginning May 21 will commence a series of destructive rains, hails and winds, which will last until June 2, and be the most extensive of the spring and summer months, and navigation on lakes will be perilous. The first half of the month will be good farming weather for crops. All planting should be finished as early in May as possible. There will be very cool weather, with a probability of frosts, between May 16 and 22. The last ten days of the month will be very warm, with plenty of rain—rather too much, in fact. Corn should not be planted deep, and if possible should be plowed before May 21. Generally May weather will be favorable to crops in the upper Mississippi valley. Mr. Foster claims that his April forecasts were completely verified.

The Standard Oil Case.

BUFFALO, N. J., May 5.—In the oil conspiracy case here Wednesday the testimony is not creating so great a sensation as was expected. Miller swore Wednesday that in accordance with his agreement with Everest he fixed the pipes of the Buffalo works so that they would burst when a fire was started, and his efforts were successful. On cross-examination he said he had made an affidavit that the Buffalo company was infringing upon the patents of the Vacuum company.

Fire at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—J. W. Boughton & Co.'s wood carpet factory, and Thomas Day's iron foundry, at Twelfth and Hamilton streets, were burned Wednesday night. Loss, $100,000; partially insured. Five firemen were carried down by falling walls and injured, but not fatally.

They Cartooned the President.

HANOVER, N. H., May 5.—D. L. Lawrence, of Walden, Mass., and A. A. Fisher, of Washington City, were suspended from Dartmouth college Wednesday for publishing in their college paper a cartoon reflecting upon the president of the college.

Patti's Two Hour Drive.

Mme. Patti takes a two hour drive through the park and on the road daily. Signor Nicolini accompanies her almost invariably. The happy pair usually occupy a closed carriage, but one day this week they ventured forth in open vehicle. Mme. Patti and Signor Nicolini sit bolt upright, look straight before them, and are never seen to converse. The prima donna, however, keeps awake when in Signor Nicolini's company. A friend who bowed to her one day when she was escorted by her pretty niece, Carlina, was surprised at first when his salute was not returned. Approaching her carriage a second time, he discovered that Mme. Patti was asleep, or so deeply plunged in thought that nobody would have known the difference between a sanguine meditation and her slumber.—New York Sun.

Bruce Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgetty, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at Frank Sherer. & Co.s. drug store.

It is a prompt, safe and pleasant cure for all throat and lung troubles. Sold by, Prentice & Evenson.

W. C. DEPAW STRUCK DOWN.

The Eminent Indianan Laid Low with Apoplexy at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 5.—W. C. DePauw, the prominent manufacturer of plate-glass at New Albany, Ind., was stricken with apoplexy Wednesday evening at the Polk street station while awaiting the train for his home. Mr. DePauw had been in Chicago for the past two days engaged in business, and was seemingly in most excellent health. He left the Palmer house in a genial mood Wednesday evening and proceeded to the station where he was stricken almost immediately on his arrival and apparently without any premonitory warning of the fatal attack. Medical attendance was at once summoned, and after a careful examination serious fears were entertained for his recovery. A litter was immediately secured and the stricken manufacturer was carried back to the Palmer house, which he had but lately quitted in such excellent health. His son, N. T. De Pauw, accompanied his father, and a number of physicians were called to his aid. Mr. De Pauw is about 65 years of age, and has been in the enjoyment of the best of health for a long time past. At a late hour Wednesday evening he was still alive, but unconscious, and but little hope was entertained of his ultimate recovery. His family were summoned to his bedside.

At the opening of May the available stock of wheat, which includes the supplies at twenty-one leading points east of the Rocky mountains and the amount in transit to the seaboard and afloat on the ocean, amounted to 68,353,000 bushels, against 63,000,000 bushels on the corresponding date last year.

Wednesday morning a deputy sheriff levied on the property of the Rosenkrans & Weber company, wholesale jewelers, Chicago, by virtue of two executions calling for the payment of about $24,000. Shortly afterward the company made an assignment to Charles B. Houghton. The liabilities were placed at $67,000.

Suing Vanderbilt for $250,000.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 5.—Summons and complaint were filed Wednesday morning in the suit of Henry B. Homins against William K. Vanderbilt, Alva B. Vanderbilt, his wife, and others. The plaintiff complains that on or about March 24, 1885, the defendant, the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railway, delivered to the plaintiff a note, whereby it promised to pay on his order on demand $250,000 and interest. The Vanderbilts and Franklin D. Locke, trustee, to secure the payment of the note, delivered a mortgage on property situated in the counties of Erie and Chautauqua, state of New York.

The Commerce Commission.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only real cure.

DEATH OF "TULE DAD."

A Remarkable Character Well Known to Old Californians.

Old "Tule Dad," a remarkable old mountain man, who early made a name among the hunters and Indian fighters of the Sierras, crossed over to the golden shore about ten days ago at Jess valley, Modoc county, Cal. He had reached the great age of 103 years, and died at last with mind unimpaired and vigorous as when he had but just passed his half century mark. "Tule Dad" was born somewhere in Missouri at the time St. Louis was the headquarters of several big fur trading companies. It was by enlisting as a hunter with one of these that he found his way through the Rockies and eventually across the Sierras to California.

"Tule Dad" is remembered by a number of old Californians who are now in the Comstock. They looked upon him as being a wonderful old man in the "days of '49," when gold was first discovered. He was a man who preferred hunting and Indian fighting to gold digging.

A story is told of him which will bear repeating. In the early days some men who were camped on the banks of the Sacramento river, above Marysville, on the Fourth of July, concluded to celebrate the day. They began firing guns and pistols, and for an hour or two kept up a lively fusillade. Presently their attention was attracted to half a dozen black objects bobbing up and down on the waters of the river. As these objects drew nearer they were seen to be men swimming across the stream, with their clothing and guns on their heads. As soon as the swimmers got within hearing distance of the party on the shore, the leader of them sang out: "What's the war?"

That was old Tule Dad. He was then 60 years of age, and was able to outswim even the youngest of his companions, especially when he thought there was a chance for a bout with the reds. Such fights he looked upon as regular, legitimate "war."

He and a party of Missouri friends had, it seems, been duck hunting on the opposite shore among the tules, and, hearing the firing, imagined that an Indian fight was going on. They therefore swam the river in order to take a hand in the fun.

The man's right name was Samuel K. Matney. He never married, and the reason he gave for it was that he could not "split an armful of oven wood in half a minute." He said that the women always sang out that they "wanted an armful of wood in just half a minute." Half a minute, he said, was too short a time for him. The old man was conscious to the last, and was aware that his end was approaching. A few hours before his death he talked with those about him; he told that his race was nearly ended, but said that he was ready to go, and remarked: "I haven't been a very bad man. I never did anything worse than kill Indians, and I don't believe that will be held against me. I had to do it." The fact is that the old fellow had really no compunction in regard to shooting Indians. He got over that when a trapper, and finally thought that in wiping the heathen off the face of the earth he was doing God a service.—Red Bluff (Cal.) Cause.

The Hotel Type Writer Girl.

This type writing business in hotel rotundas is not what it is cracked up to be by any means, that is, if the operator is a young and good looking girl. I don't suppose that homely old maids find it such a bad occupation, though; but young ladies, that is if they are pretty, are annoyed to death. She is stared at, grinned at and talked to so much that after she has been in the business a few weeks she comes to the conclusion that the life of a domestic in a private family is much more preferable than writing love letters for bald heads and dudes. The worst crowd she has to deal with are those dashing young drummers, who are always on the mash and think that everybody else is. They will come to you and open a conversation on the pretense of wanting to write a letter to their firm. Then they will sit down and dictate a lot of nonsense, which we are compelled to write so long as they pay us for our time. We have to treat them civilly, although we know that they really do not require our services, or they will make a complaint. So the life of a type writer girl is not as pleasant as it might be, but I suppose that there are other occupations that are equally as disagreeable.—Globe-Democrat.

International Cremation Congress.

It is intended to hold an international congress on cremation in September of the present year. The place selected for this gathering of the savants of various countries who are interested in cremation and cemetery hygiene is Milan. French will be the official language of the congress; but the speakers may, if they like, make use of any other language. Reports will be submitted as to progress made in the practice of cremation, in different countries, and the formation of an international league will be proposed. An exhibition of models of crematories, urns and other objects connected with the campaign now being conducted against the present methods of disposing of the dead will be open during the congress.—Chicago Herald.

ROSSER DRAWS THE LINE.

HE CAN NOT FORGIVE LITTLE PHIL JUST YET,

And Wants Him Boycotted by the Shenandoah Valley People—Raking Up Some Very Dead Issues—What Is Thought of the Screed by Washington People—"A Little Cavalry Officer."

WINCHESTER, Va., May 5.—The Times Wednesday printed the following letter from Gen. Rosser, written from the University of Virginia, dated May 2, and addressed to Maj. Holmes Conrad:

MY DEAR MAJOR: I have seen it reported recently in the newspapers that Gen. P. H. Sheridan, U. S. A., contemplates at an early day another ride up the Shenandoah valley. I had hoped that our beautiful valley should never again be desecrated by his footprints. Cold, cruel and brutal must be the character of this soldier who fondly cherishes memories of the wild, wanton waste and desolation which his barbarous torch spread through the valley, laying in ashes the beautiful and happy homes of innocent women, young and helpless children and aged men, and who over these ruins boasted that "Now a crow can not fly over this valley without carrying its rations."

Gen. Sheridan has done nothing since the war to atone for his cruel barbarism during the war. We have not forgotten that during his reign in New Orleans he asked that our fellow-citizens of Louisiana might be proclaimed banditti in order that he might set the dogs of war on them. I have forgiven the brave men of the Union armies whom I met in honorable battle, and who finally triumphed over us in the great struggle. Among them I can now name many of my warmest and truest and most prized friends. They are good and true men, and think none the less of us for having fought them. Indeed, they esteem him highest amongst us who fought them the hardest. Sheridan is not one of this kind, and he has never accorded to us that place which Grant proclaimed. I now say to you, my dear major, and to our gallant comrades who are now in the valley, that I hope you will allow this man to make his triumphant ride up the valley in peace, but have him go like the miserable crow, carrying his rations with him. Yours truly,

THOS. L. ROSSER."

Comment at Washington.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 5.—There is much unfavorable comment on Gen. Rosser's letter regarding Gen. Sheridan, and it was particularly noticeable at the meeting and monthly banquet of the Washington Commandery of the Loyal Legion, held Wednesday night at the Arlington. Gen. Sheridan, who is a member of this commandery, was not present, evidently desiring to avoid all discussion of such an unpleasant subject. With one voice Gen. Rosser's letter was stigmatized as outrageous and indefensible, especially in view of the fact that a year ago Gen. Sheridan, accompanied by Senator Don Cameron, made a horseback tour through the Shenandoah valley and was kindly received by the people. An ex-volunteer general said that the probable cause of Rosser's chagrin was found in the fact that in one of Sheridan's reports he alludes to Rosser as a "little cavalry general" who had been sent by the Confederates to attack Sheridan's forces. Another alluded to the fact that when Rosser came out of the war in distressed financial circumstances, he was befriended and put on the road to fortune by his old army friends who know him at West Point before the war. Leading Democrats censure Gen. Rosser, and say that it was just this "slopping over" of Confederate officers that kept the Democratic party out of power so long. Republicans express the hope that a few more Confederate generals may assail Phil Sheridan, for the American people will embrace every opportunity to resent such attacks.

OUR TRADE WITH CANADA.

The Inter-State Bill Securing the Objects of the Retaliatory Measure.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 5.—The state department has sent to the inter-state commerce commission a copy of a communication just received at the department from Mr. Washington, United States commercial agent at London, Ont., respecting the effects of the inter-state commerce bill on our trade with Canada. The agent, writing under date of April 25, says the result of the act has been most damaging to both the United States and Canada in respect to exports and imports, and is severely felt both by buyers and sellers to and from the United States.

The Canadian roads, he says, can not yet give a rate over their own and connecting American lines, and shippers are consequently unwilling to let their goods go to the frontier, not knowing what the further delivery to inland and seaboard points will cost.

This, however, he writes, is not the worst feature of the case, and is slight compared with the damage to our import trade into Canada. The English merchant in this busy season is able to name the exact rate of freight, and thus has a great advantage over the American merchant who, in the present chaotic condition of railway tariffs, can not say whether the rate on his goods will be $1 or $5 per 100 pounds. A settlement must shortly be reached or our commerce will receive such damage that it will take years to regain the lost trade and prestige which the United States has hitherto enjoyed.

Father Malone Advises the Pope.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Rev. Father Sylvester Malone, pastor of St. Peter and St. Paul, Brooklyn, says he wrote a letter to Pope Leo XIII, some time ago, in which he said that Dr. McGlynn was the best known priest in America; that his influence was far-reaching, and that he was one whom to censure would put back the church in America half a century. He told the pope that nothing could blight the future of the church in this country more than any act of ecclesiastical authority that might raise the question of the rights of the citizen. Such action would bring about a state of public sentiment antagonistic to the best interests of the church. He stated that the charges against Dr. McGlynn raised the question of the right of the citizen

Fotheringham Goes Free.

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—Amid the congratulations of friends, and with his happy mother by his side, David S. Fotheringham, who has been in jail for a long time under a charge of robbing the Adams express on the San Francisco railway last October, walked out of the court room Wednesday a freeman. After the prosecution had got in all their evidence the judge ordered an acquittal on the ground of want of jurisdiction. It will be remembered that Fred Wittrock, of Chicago, and others were sent to the penitentiary for committing the robbery, but the company held that Fotheringham was an accomplice.

Will Give O'Brien a Reception.

NEW YORK, May 5.—At a meeting of leading Irish citizens at the Hoffman house Wednesday night arrangements were perfected to give Mr. William O'Brien a warm welcome on his arrival here. A public reception at the Cooper Union will be tendered Mr. O'Brien next Wednesday evening.

CLINTON.

—At the village election held here May 3, the following ticket was elected by about 50 majority. For president—J. C. Church; trustees—Om. Edwards, O. Harden, J. Bush, S. M. Estes, G. W. Earl, D. M. Phillips; clerk—C. L. Sherwood; assessor—C. B. Dow; treasurer—Geo. Rogers; supervisor—Dr. John W. Jones; constable—Jas. Tester. License or no license was the issue and whisky came out ahead. Last spring a temperance board of trustees was elected by a small majority, but as intoxicants have been freely sold during the year and no successful prosecutions made the tide has turned and for the year to come we can go in at the front door and get our liquid refreshments.

—Seeding is mostly done in this vicinity; farmers are now preparing their corn ground, and a few have planted, although the weather continues mainly cold and dry.

—Simons Bro's have now settled down to business in their new quarters, and have a very attractive grocery store.

—Mrs. James Irish is improving.

—Mrs. B. Latta remains about the same.

—Mrs. Mason has a very sick child.

—E. A. Thomas and wife, of Delavan, spent the Sabbath with Clinton friends.

—The German church addition is progressing finely and will soon be completed.

—Joseph Gates is indulging in a large amount of new shingles.

—Since the fire the usual spasmodic talk about protection against fire has been indulged in. A reservoir on High street hill and water pipes to the business part of the village is the most popular plan and the most feasible and practical.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

TIRED OUT!
At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
QUALITY PURITY QUANTITY
Trade Mark On Every Bottle
—THE BEST TONIC—
For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc., it HAS NO EQUAL, and is the only Iron medicine that is not injurious. It Enriches the Blood, Invigorates the System, Restores Appetite, Aids Digestion
It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do
Dr. G. H. BRADLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says:
"Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its actions exactly all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it."
Dr. W. N. WATERS, 1828 Thirty-second Street, Georgetown, D. C., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the Tonic of the age. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion."

A Child's Skin
Ears and Scalp Covered with Eczematous scabs and sores Cured by Cuticura.
My little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was raw like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him and in many ways try to prevent his scratching, but it was no use he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the Cuticura Remedies prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has recommenced to thicken and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that my statement is true and without exaggeration. CHAS McKAY
Oct 6, 1885. Peabody, Mass.
I have seen Mr. McKay's boy when badly afflicted with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he had tried our best physicians and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but it failed. Nothing. I know that the statement he has made you as regards the curing of his boy by your Cuticura Remedies are true in every particular.
WILLIAM McCARTHY,
33 Foster St. Peabody, Mass.
I do not know of any instance of which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist. A. D. THAYER, Batavia, N. Y.
Cuticura Remedies are sold everywhere. Cuticura, the great skin cure, 50 cts.; Cuticura Soap, an exquisite skin beautifier, 25 cts.; Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood purifier, $1.00. Prepared by the Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston.
Send for "How to cure skin diseases."
PIMPLES, Blackheads, Skin Blemishes and Baby Humors, use Cuticura Soap.

A Word About Catarrh.
"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammeling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasure of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head it smears the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, elongating and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviators are simply procrastinations of sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. Sanford's Radical Cure by Inhalation and by internal administration have never failed; even when the disease had made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been restored, and the disease thoroughly driven out."
Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent, a double Improved Inhaler, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00. Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston.

How it Aches.
Worn out with pain, but still compelled by stern necessity to stand up to work, your nerves betray its hard fate. METHOD IN HER MADNESS.

When your wife employs a cross-eyed girl whose talent is to shirk,
Who takes four afternoons a week and never does her work;
Who talks back constantly, and her dire clatter will not cease,
Who wears an apron spotted o'er with stains of dirt and grease;
Whose grammar is distinguished by its most surprising badness,
You may think your wife is crazy,
But there's method in her madness.

BRIEFLETS.

—Just one year ago to-day, the militiamen went gunning after rioters.

—Mrs. Caldwell will commence filling her plant house to-morrow morning.

—Louis Sholes, of the "Industrial Age" of Chicago, was in the city to-day.

—It is understood that the Janesville camp of Sons of Veterans will be named after Major General Kilpatrick.

—Instead of thirty cents a quart as they were one year ago to-day, strawberries are now only eighteen cents.

—Last night quite a number of the Concordia society serenaded Charles Gezelschap at his new place of business.

—Justice Prichard looked especially fatherly this morning because of a marriage he had just performed. Any particulars, however, he refused to give.

—The "Care of the Person," was the topic discussed at the girls' meeting at the Wayside Inn last evening. The meeting was very interesting and instructive.

—The remains of the late J. B. Crosby will arrive in Janesville from North Carolina to-morrow, and the funeral will probably be held on Saturday.

—Mr. George Morris, of Chicago, manager of the Standard theatre and one of the proprietors of Little's "World," is in the city arranging for the production to-morrow night.

—George Trenwith came before Judge Patten to-day and had his examination on the charge of causing a disturbance at Milton, put over until one week from next Saturday.

—Beethoven, Faubert, Ernst, Boccherini, Schubert and Tosti are grand composers, but "Tommy Make Room for Your Uncle" has more drawing capacity in this city.

—Mr. Whittaker Pickles and Miss Mary A. Dorr were united in marriage at the Baptist church yesterday. Both young people live in this city. Their many friends will wish them all the joy possible.

—There is a decided difference between the Guards' and Rifles' occupations now, and their occupations just one year ago. And probably they are rather glad of it. Perhaps the Milwaukee Polacks are too.

—Within a few days the foot of an Egyptian mummy will arrive in Janesville, being now enroute. It is over three thousand years old and is said to be coming for a visit with its old friend the Milwaukee street pavement.

—From the Milwaukee Sentinel we learn that among the papers read at the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Wisconsin, in Whitewater, was one by Miss Grace Hubbs, of this city. It contained a thrilling account of her year's experience in teaching Indians in New Mexico.

—Mr. Henry Peters, who was summoned by telegraph from Freeport, reached this city last night about nine o'clock. His wife's condition remains unchanged. The chance for her recovery is only one out of a hundred, and even should she live, she would be terribly disfigured.

—Constable Ed. Smith has made two excursions to Indian Ford lately after violators of the game law. He came across one of them the other day but the fellow jumped in a boat, rowed down stream and then took to the woods. Ed. is a good fisher—either for pickerel or for men—but this time he didn't use the right bait.

—Yesterday at the residence of Mrs. Foster occurred the marriage of her daughter, Etta C. Foster of this city, to Simeon B. Hall, of Minneapolis. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Shidell, in the presence of the near relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Hall left this city on the 6:20 train for Minneapolis their future home.

—Since the last meeting of the common council, at which only two saloon keepers applied for a wholesale license, there has been much talk, as it is known that many of the saloons are doing a large business at wholesaling—or what is termed here "the bottle trade." It is whispered that should this trade be continued by those without license, prosecution will follow.

—United States Marshal Edward Hankins has written to the Janesville officers asking about the exact status of the case against Wesley VanZandt, alias Lee Erwin. Marshal Hankins is very anxious to get Van Zandt into the custody of the federal officials. It is understood that the man of many wives is implicated in one or two postoffice robberies in the east.

—This morning a plat of Forest Park was received by the improvement company for explanation. The plat was approved, and men will arrive to-morrow to stake the streets and prepare for setting trees. There will be two principal driveways, one extending from Racine street through, and the other beginning on Bluff street, near the residence formerly occupied by R. W. Burton. Both will follow the lines of the ravines as much as possible, and will make very picturesque drives.

—Bardotte has been reading a Chinese paper. He says: "We see that among other things 'Na si thou-ni hu-tang chie-Tsameng-teng, si lip-u-chieh khiato-ko, ua-um iu-keag kien-kulzuistok thi-si ou-im-loh-hou.' We always said, we believed that those almond eyed heathen wrote the words for all our Easter hymns, and now we know it. We heard that very hymn sung in the most fashionable church in this town the very last Easter as ever was."

—In the circuit court this afternoon the case of Horn against the City of Janesville, was given to the jury. Most of the testimony taken during the day was in regard to the amount of drainage the plaintiff's property had suffered from the overflowed gutters in question. At present the case before the court is that of Mary Canary against the city, an action of the same nature as the one that preceded it.

—The stage machinist for "The World" company has been in the city taking the Myers house stage measurements in preparation for fitting the special scenery carried by the company to it. He found everything in a satisfactory condition and assured Manager Myers they would be able to put every scene on, as advertised, with as good effect as when presented on the large stages in New York city and in much better shape than in many of the larger western cities. The advance agent who was in the city last week stated that the stage was large enough for the presentation of even most elaborate New York production.

—Constable Acheson rather prides himself on his French accent. He acquired it while studying the relation of Paris green to potato bugs, and frequently uses choice morceaus in serving attachments on second hand furniture. The other day he was in Chicago. "Oh, come now, Monsieur le Acheson", he soliloquized, as noon time approached, "Why don't you be true to your higher education? Dine as they do in France. Here's a good place right across the street." And without any further debate "monsieur", stepped inside. Everything was French and the representative of Janesville culture made himself quite at home. "While I hadn't my Conversation Lessons with me," he explained afterwards, "yet I felt quite confident, and picked up the menoo unflinchingly. But it was worse than I had ever supposed. Not a single name was acquainted with me in the least. Finally I drew my pencil across two of the simplest and waited to see what they stood for. Taken altogether they footed up nineteen letters, but the result was nothing more than a plate of pig's feet and five hard boiled eggs. That's all I had for dinner, and that's why the blood of forty Gallic ancestors now leaps through my veins with diminished vigor. See here, you reporter!" he continued vigorously, as he saw a meek young man with a note book just backing away. "Don't you tell that story on me! Give it to John Hogan."

STREET PAVEMENTS.

An Old Resident Gives the Result of His Investigations and Experiences.

To the Editor.

From the miserable condition of West Milwaukee street and from what we see in the press from time to time, I assume that the street will be repaved during the coming summer. I was asked several times while at home what I thought was the best mode of repairing it, and replied, that I had not given it careful consideration enough to give an opinion upon the subject. In 1882 I stopped over a day in Omaha, at that time the most undesirable looking city in the west, with a population of from thirty to thirty-five thousand inhabitants. At that time there were no pavements in the city, and no material within many miles fit for paving. The topographical difficulties to be overcome were very great—high hills here and deep swampy ravines there; the expense would be enormous. A few enterprising, persevering, property owners determined to redeem the city, by grading and paving. There was the usual amount of bucking—the usual predictions of bankruptcy, the usual wranglings and contentions whenever an attempt is made in any city to make public improvements—every one knew more than everybody else, and for a time the battle went on, but finally wise counsels prevailed and it was determined to make a commencement. It was finally determined, as a plan, that the city should issue twenty year bonds for the intersections of the streets and ten year bonds were issued to lie against property owners, they to pay seven per cent interest and ten per cent of the cost of paving annually in redemption of the bonds. the street car company to pave their portion of the track.

Then came the war about paving material, one party wanting one thing and another something else. Like your water works, the old nick was to pay all round. There are some men in every city who, like an army mule, can pull more in the britching than in the collar. But a beginning was made and a couple of streets were paved. As might be expected, business gravitated to the paved streets and the property on these streets increased in value fourfold, and so all the expense of grading was returned to the owners in a compound ratio. The unpaved streets were deserted, bereft of all their business. Even the most stupid and obstinate saw the effect and were converted, and notwithstanding the enormity of the work in such a city they now have sixteen miles of splendid paved streets in Omaha and this year it is said they will construct four to five miles more. With the commencement of public improvements in Omaha, you may date the wonderful growth of that now beautiful city, with a population to-day of 90,000. Every man finds something to do and no man who will work need be idle. Knowing that Omaha had had a large experience I stopped over there one day on my way here for the express purpose of learning what I could in regard to the best mode and manner of paving and to give you and through you the people of Janesville the result of my investigations is the sole object of this letter. They have tried the various kinds of pavement, wood, Colorado sandstone, Sioux City granite, but the kind the city engineer (and in fact this seemed to be the best opinion of the citizens) thinks best suited to the climate is asphaltum. It is the same pavement as in Washington city, and our mayor, Mr. Winans, must know something of its excellence, comfort and durability. The heaviest vehicle will not indent it. It is perfectly smooth. It is made in this wise: First grade, then place two inches of concrete or else six inches of pure sand [and broken stones as a substratum. It is composed of 80 per cent sand, 17 per cent asphaltum, and 3 per cent of ground lime or something of like nature to meet the difference in climate. It is a most delightful pavement to drive over, but it is a little harder for horses feet than the wooden pavement when new. The city engineer of Omaha says that the material being used in many cities as asphaltum is a vile thing not genuine and ought not to be permitted to be used, not even for sidewalks.

Milwaukee street is graded, the curb stones set; there is 6 inches of good sand now underlying the old wooden pavement. Street car company build their own pavement, so that only the space lying between the curb stones and the car track will have to be supplied with the asphaltum which will cost comparatively, but little. I have now no hesitation in answering the question put to me so often while at home: "What is the best way to repair and repave West Milwaukee street?" by saying make the asphaltum pavement and make it of the genuine article. ALEX. GRAHAM.

Silver City, Utah, April 20, '87.

THE QUINTETTE CLUB.

An opportunity to hear classical music rendered by such an organization as the Mendelssohn Quintette club is rare. Nevertheless Janesville failed to appreciate her privilege for the audience at the Congregational church last evening was not a large one. It was thoroughly appreciative, however, and included many of the best known musical people of the city.

There have been one or two changes in the Quintette club since it was here last. Apparently they have been for the better for the first number on the programme, a selection from Schubert, showed that none of the exquisite delicacy and precision for which the club is so noted had been lost.

The four instrumental solos received flattering ovations. Mr. Schade, whose flute solo came third on the programme, took the old English melody "Long, Long Ago," and so rendered it that the audience seemed bound as by a spell. Mr. John Marquardt's violin selection—a fantasie from Ernsts "Othello"—was also fine. Mr. Thomas Ryan's clarinette solo introduced the second part of the programme and pleased the hearers greatly. But neither that nor any one of those preceding it was received so enthusiastically as the number of Louis Blumenberg. Mr. Blumenberg is known as one of the leading violoncellists in America and his "Hungarian Caprice" showed this estimate to be nothing more than true.

Miss Alice Ryan, the vocalist, won many admirers by her clear, sweet and well trained voice. Her first number, a quaint Italian air, was hardly as well received as the beautiful song by Tosti, "Good Bye," although both were very fine. After the second Miss Ryan was obliged to respond to an encore and sang a humorous ballad telling of the fate of three maidens who were over particular. Nothing but praise can be given the entire concert, and it is to be regretted that the audience was not larger.

COMING EVENTS.

—Burr Robbins' show will take the road to-morrow night.

—The Choral Union rehearsal will take place at Apollo hall this evening. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

—Janesville Chapter No. 5, Royal Arch Masons, assemble in regular semi-monthly convocation this evening at Masonic hall.

—J. Z. Little in "The World" is supported by an exceptionally strong cast. He appears in the master scenic production, "The World" at Myers opera house to-morrow night.

—Marie Prescott is expected back in the city on Monday, May 16th. Manager Myers is very anxious to have her return and thinks that, being better known, she would now draw a good house. Those that saw her in "Pygmalion and Galatea" were delighted and would be glad to have the opportunity again.

—"The World", which will be at Myers new opera house to-morrow evening is one of the greatest spectacular pieces now before the public. With the great raft scenes and the revolving tower, as well as the representation of the deck of an ocean steamer by moonlight make it one of the most beautiful things that have ever been produced.

—The Janesville Concordia society is arranging to give a grand public ball at Concordia hall in the Mitchell block, on Monday evening of next week, for the benefit of the singers connected with the society. The singers are making arrangements to attend the saengerfest at Freeport next month, and the members adopted this means to raise a portion of the expenses. Smith & Corliss' orchestra will furnish the music, and a pleasant time is guaranteed to all who attend. Tickets only 50 cents. All will be welcome.

Good housekeepers appreciate Fairbank's Soaps. They know a thing or two.

Agony is Courted.

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglect to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will beget this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood depurent is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism. Not only is it thorough, but safe, which the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as curative of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it overcomes fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and dyspepsia.

THE REV. MR. SAWIN.

The many friends in this city of the Rev. T. P. Sawin, formerly pastor of the First Congregational church, of Janesville, will be pleased to hear of his continued success and popularity in the east. He is now pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at Troy, New York. In the Troy Daily Times, of April 25, is a very complimentary reference to Mr. Sawin's work in that city. A synopsis of his morning sermon delivered on the 24th ultimo, is prefaced by the following:

The recent increase of attendance at the First Presbyterian church was remarkably illustrated at the services yesterday. In the morning there was a very large attendance, and in the evening not only every sitting on the main floor and in the galleries was taken, but chairs were placed in the aisles and people were standing in the galleries. The popularity of the talented pastor, the Rev. T. P. Sawin, is steadily increasing. Mr. Sawin announced yesterday that every pew and sitting in the church had been sold, and the pew-owners were asked to go to church early to assist ushers in their task of seating strangers, who were always welcome. The trustees have under advisement the refitting and numbering of the seats in the galleries to meet the demand, as the acoustic properties of the church make those seats especially favorable to auditors. The entire debt of the church was extinguished last week. The singing of the choir yesterday was especially fine, Miss Louise Baldwin, of Boston, taking the soprano part with great success. Miss Baldwin has been engaged as the soprano singer of the choir, and she will begin her duties in that capacity May 8. The quartette as now composed—Misses Baldwin and Burt and Messrs. Impett and Schoonmaker—is probably the best in this section of the state.

Mr. Sawin deserves all the good things that fall to his lot. He is a bright scholar, a close student, an excellent speaker, and a thorough christian gentleman, and his friends in Janesville congratulate Troy in its good fortune in securing his services.

The LaCrosse Y. M. C. A. is negotiating for the purchase of ground on which to erect a handsome hall. The site will cost $12,000.

The high wind early in the week greatly damaged the crops around Palmyra. Acres of wheat and small grains were uprooted and blown away.

About 250 feet of the track of the Burlington & Northern railway north of Maiden Rock, was so washed out that trains were delayed several hours.

A meeting of the members of St. James African church at Fond du Lac broke up in a free fight in which the women also took a hand. Several arrests will follow.

Neil C. Steele's farm residence in the town of Caledonia, Columbus county, was destroyed by fire, Mrs. Steele narrowly escaping death, her face and arms being severely burned.

Christian Krauck, a wealthy farmer of Columbus, 70 years old, committed suicide Tuesday by hanging himself to a tree in the woods near his house. He had been in feeble health for many years, and had at various times threatened to take his own life.

A babe belonging to a woman from Stebensville, died on a Wisconsin Central train while enroute to Ashland. It had suffered from a fractured leg that had remained unreduced for eight days. The passengers purchased a coffin and arranged a proper burial of the little one.

During a sudden thunder storm Tuesday night, a party of sixteen log-drivers, who were operating near the mouth of Jump river, eighty miles north of Eau Claire, took refuge in a shanty, when a flash of lightning entered the building. Nine of the men were prostrated, three badly burned, and a young man of Eau Claire, Duncan McKinnon, son of Alex. McKinnon, a wealthy logger, was killed instantly and John McGregor probably fatally injured.

SHORTHKE.

—Mr. J. E. Gordon and wife, of Beloit, spent the Sabbath with E. J. Dole.

—During the wind storm last Monday the house and barn on S. M. Colt's farm in the southwest part of the town were burned. Most of the household goods were saved. Some of the young stock in the barn were destroyed. We were unable to learn the amount of loss or insurance.

—Geo. Sears has returned from a trip out to Nebraska on business and pleasure.

—Our neighbor, W. W. Swingle, is doing his "courting" in Janesville under Judge Bennett this spring.

—The wind storm of Monday did no very serious damage about here only to make it very unpleasant and disagreeable.

—The tobacco acreage in this community will be reduced about one-third this year. This is estimated from inquiry among the prominent growers. Most of the large crops are being put in cases and will be held for the present. Some of our growers are "conscience-smitten" by the price and will quit the business.

—Rev. S. Plantz, of Clinton, delivered a lecture on prohibition in the M. E. church Friday evening, which was very interesting. The speaker labored under much difficulty in speaking on account of a bad throat. The audience was not very large but all present seemed well pleased.

—Fred Rice has invented a self-acting wagon brake which is operated by the action of the neck yoke. As the team begins to hold back going down a hill it sets the brake on the front wheels. When the team backs the wagon, the wheels turning the other way the brake does not operate. Fred has applied for a patent and no doubt will have something in the patent line which is useful.

—S. H. Manley met with a severe shock to his body by being thrown out of his wagon last Friday. He was drawing a load of sand and one side of the box gave away and threw him off of the seat on to the ground. He is able to sit up a little now but feels very sore.

—There will be a Sunday school concert at the Congregational church next Sunday evening.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottle were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada

Illinois Statesmanship.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., May 5.—The committee investigating the state printing contracts reported to the senate Wednesday as indicated in these dispatches. The reports were made special order for Thursday. Appropriations were passed: For Eye and Ear infirmary at Chicago, $50,000; for expenses of state government, $800,000; Jacksonville Deaf and Dumb asylum, $216,500; Pontiac Reform school, $105,300; Jacksonville Blind asylum, $68,200; State Normal university, $42,000; Kankakee Insane asylum, $540,000, and several other smaller appropriations. The convict school book bill was read the second time, as was the bill to prohibit false pedigrees. The bill to prevent option dealing was read the second time. The house passed the following bills: Prohibiting the adulteration of liquors; licensing itinerant merchants; the deficits appropriation bill—$285,000; the anti-Anarchist bill—makes the man who preaches violent doctrines guilty when any one else carries them into effect—91 to 20.

Powderly Wants Rest.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—General Master Workman Powderly has issued a circular to the K. of L. of the country in which he says the members must stop writing to him, and address their letters to the general secretary. He is deluged with correspondence, he says, and can stand it no longer, as he gets 300 letters a day on all sorts of subjects. The thing is wearing him out and preventing him attending to his legitimate duties, and he will answer no more letters. He proposes to take a rest from active work until May 24.

Presidential Appointments.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 5.—The president has appointed William H. McLyman collector of customs for the district of Miami, Ohio; also Isaac J. Cox, of Ellenville, N. Y.; J. W. Dunn, of Chicago, and William K. Carlisle, of Wichita, Kan. (a son of Speaker Carlisle), commissioners to examine and report upon thirty-four miles of newly constructed Northern Pacific railroad in Washington territory.

From Ex-Senator Al. Daggett.

The Hon. Albert Daggett, writing from the senate chamber, Albany, New York, says:

I have used Allcock's Porous Plasters for the past 10 years with marked results. I have found them especially effective when depleted and worn out from weeks of incessant labors in political campaigns; the application of them to my chest and spine gave me great relief when voice had become hoarse and worn down from speaking in the open air. They seemed to act as a tonic to the whole system, curing the soreness consequent from over exertion and restoring the tone of the system more readily than any remedy I have ever found. I have also used them for rheumatism with very beneficial results.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 51 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind. At one o'clock p. m., the register was 54 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind. For corresponding hours one year ago the register was 45 and 74 degrees above zero.

A Lady Artist's Life.

Bertha von Hillern, who has been gaining a good deal of success as an artist since she quietly gave up pedestrianism a few years ago, is a devoted Catholic. In the wilds of West Virginia, where she spends her summers, she will walk ten miles and back under the burning sun whenever the possibility occurs of attending mass. During her brief winter sojourns in Boston she rises before day, walks a long distance to the cathedral, attends the first mass, and walks back to her hotel in time for an early breakfast.

Over a Precipice.

Near Mabel, Col., one day, an Indian woman was killed by falling over a precipice 100 feet high. It seems she was going over one of those wild and narrow mountain trails leading along the edge of the precipice, when her dog came suddenly behind her, and in trying to pass crowded the woman over the brink. She was found at the bottom of the canyon crushed to a pulp.—Chicago Times.

Chinese Tricks of Trade.

Inhabitants of northern Idaho are complaining of the tricks in trade of the Chinese. It is said that they mix gold dust worth $8 an ounce with dust worth $10, and dispose of it at the maximum figure. Besides this, they fail to burn their fine dust sufficiently, thereby retaining much quicksilver, and also file up silver dollars and mix the filings with the gold.

The Champion "Ringer."

The newest champion to demand recognition as such is Michael Yerger of Montgomery county, Pa., who glories in having inserted rings in the noses of over 13,000 pigs during two years, being far ahead of any other man in the profession as far as heard from.

An Eminent Oculist.

Professor Arlt, the eminent oculist, of Vienna, died recently at the age of 75, after a long illness. The late professor enjoyed a world wide reputation as a skillful operator in affections of the eye. His operations for cataract alone amounted to some 5,000.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgetty, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at Frank Sherer & Co.s. drug store.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.
